How We Care for You

The Department of Otolaryngology at DuPage Medical Group is dedicated to providing patients of all ages with advanced evaluation and specialized treatment of disorders involving the ear, nose and throat. Our highly trained Head and Neck surgeons use state-of-the-art techniques to comprehensively evaluate and treat a wide range of disorders including hearing, balance, speech, swallowing, and upper airway breathing problems. Working closely with your primary care physician and other specialists, we develop a treatment plan that ensures the highest quality, compassionate care that's right for you.

Focused On You

The oldest medical specialty in the United States, Otolaryngology - Head and Neck Surgery (also commonly known as ENT—Ear, Nose and Throat) encompasses disorders and diseases of the ear, nose and throat, in addition to the head and neck. Although Otolaryngology - Head and Neck Surgery began as a division of surgery, medical treatments may be all that is necessary for many diseases.

Beginning with your first encounter with our department, we aim to focus on you and your health. We invest time in your care. We want to listen to your concerns, review your medical history, conduct thorough and gentle exams and efficiently diagnose and treat your condition.

Our physicians treat infants and children to adults. With a customized approach for each patient, our specialists seek to provide personal and attentive care. We also believe in involving the families as well as the patient. Our entire staff is committed to providing excellent care.

Our goal is to not only treat you, but to educate you. We will teach you about your condition, what can be done to treat it and, when possible, what can be done to prevent any further problems—all while using the most current research and advanced technology.
